Wethje Carbon Composites GmbH specialises in the development, design and production of carbon composite materials for automotive, racing, aerospace and industrial applications.

As a supplier to numerous premium OEMs and Tier 1 companies, Wethje manufactures structural components such as monocoques as well as outer skin parts and body works, e.g. carbon roofs, bonnets as visible components or Class A parts. Working closely with customers, the company offers complete solutions from concept to series production of complex composite components.
