carbovation gmbh, part of the Murtfeldt Group from Dortmund, is a specialist in the development and production of integrative and hybrid lightweight solutions based on high-quality fibre composite materials. Our expertise lies in solving complex and customer-specific challenges and thereby offering the customer targeted added value. Consultancy, development and production from a single source.

Through different system technologies: - Fibre winding technology up to 8.3m and Ø 1.4m - Prepreg autoclave technology up to 12m, Ø 1.7m and 200 °C curing temperature - Various liquid impregnation processes (resin injection, resin infusion and combination processes) and the possibility of customised component implementation: - Multi-stage winding processes for the realisation of integral components - Realisation of undercuts and changing geometries - Integration of functional elements (inserts, force introduction, openings, etc.) - Complex component geometries - Hybrid material combinations (plastic - plastic; plastic - metal) - Sandwich structures - Non-detachable connections such as adhesive processes - Detachable connections such as clamps or screw connections We can offer our customers exactly the product they need and provide them with the decisive added value for their application.
