This organisation has been machine-translated based on data provided in German.

For over 60 years, the GRAUTHOFF Door Group, a family-run company, has stood for high quality, innovation and creative door design. With the product brands ASTRA, HGM, BARTELS, licht & harmonie and alumin impulse, the company develops and produces a market-driven range of doors and frames.

Special manufacturing processes in door leaf construction enable a deliberate lightweight construction in the area of interior doors. By processing particularly light centre layers, door leaf sizes can be realised which, despite their size, allow important functions with low weight. In general, when manufacturing doors and frames, care is taken to minimise weight while maximising stability.
