EurA is an international consultancy for innovation and technology. Our consultants support companies, research organisations and public clients of all sizes in enabling technical innovations. We support tomorrow's market leaders in generating ideas for innovations, developing new products and services and marketing them internationally.

EurA customers benefit from the sector and industry experience as well as the technical knowledge of our highly qualified consultants. As an expert in funding and a leader in innovation networks, we are committed to high quality innovation consulting for companies, even beyond our own organisation. In addition to network and project management, the Erfurt location focuses on applying for and supporting international commercialisation projects (Horizon Europe), developing innovative business models and providing sustainability consulting. Our expertise lies in the areas of renewable chemical raw materials, hydrogen, public transport, energy storage and distribution and medical products. Through new business models and ecologically sustainable products, we help our clients to create unique selling points and gain competitive advantages.
