

TUD Dresden University of Technology

Institute of Textile Machinery and High Performance Material Technology (ITM)

About this organisation

The Institute for Textile Machinery and Textile High Performance Materials Technology at TU Dresden is a world-leading university research institution in the field of textile technology along the entire process chain. For the successful implementation of its diverse research projects, the ITM has a modern infrastructure that enables the rapid development of completely new technologies and innovative products.

The research activities at the ITM are focused on the areas machine, technology and product development and include development and processing of high-tech fibres made of carbon, glass, aramid, steel and ceramics. The research activities are complemented by modelling and simulation of structures and processes and include development of novel yarn constructions, 2D and 3D reinforcement semi-finished products, finishing and functionalisation.
